The Adjutant General, U. S. Army.

Arlington July 30, 1887

Sir,

Comrade Jones enlisted the same time I did and we went out together, Aug 1862. He hadn't been out there more than 2 months, when he had the chills & fever, and from that time untill his time was out in 1864, he had them at frequent intervals. He was in the regt hospital 2 different times, but I don't remember the dates, and he was often excused from duty, by the surgeon and staid in his quarters. When we went to the front, May 15 1864 He was too sick to go, and with a number of others, was sent to some hospital in Washington. He never joined the regt again. I don't think he was one that would shirk duty, when he was able to perform it.

Yours respt. Sylvester G. Frost.

I was a near neighbor of said Hiram W. Jones four or five years before he enlisted in the Army and knew him to be an able bodied man. He came to work for me after his discharge and suffered severely from fever & ague while he lived with me some ten months, and also knowing that he suffered from the same cause after he left me. I have known nothing about him for the last few years, as I moved out of his neighborhood, & have seen him only occasionally since.

I further declare that I have no interest in said case, and am not concerned in its prosecution, and am not related to said claimant.
